

SIDNEY DAY DRAWS VAST CROWDS ON BRILLIANT DAY

—Parade Meets Deadline

Brilliant sunshine and a packed grandstand featured Sidney Day at Sandown Park on Monday. Program of horse and motorcycle events beyond the fence was interspersed with stage events, with the variety show, Showcase '63, as the star turn.

Activities opened on Monday morning when crowds started to line Beacon Ave., before 10 o'clock. Parade formed up at the Anacortes ferry wharf at that time and moved off at 10:30 without a hitch. Sidney Kinsmen Club was in charge of the parade and met its deadline with hairline accuracy.

The parade featured the attractive Victoria City float as well as the Sidney Cadborosaurus. Both were vehicles for the respective beauty queens.

Central Saanich float, with its water fountains, was driven by Councillor Ray Lamont.

Various local organizations entered floats, but few commercial entries appeared.

The parade moved along Beacon to Fifth and thence via Samuel Ave. to the race track. It was timed to cross Patricia Bay Highway between ferry schedules and no hitch was experienced.

CHILDREN'S EVENTS

Elks children's flag day and sports opened the events at the park, followed by the formal crowning of the Sidney queen, Linda Douma and her princesses, Penny Clark and Nancy Miller.

In addition to a packed grandstand, the park was swarming with visitors patronizing the refreshment stands and midway and watching the events from ground level.

Conclusion of the day was the presentation of an indoor version of Showcase '63 in Sanscha hall to open the evening's program. A dance in the same hall followed.

Final assessment of the day's financial returns has not yet been made, but visitors and sponsors were in agreement that the attendance was high and that visitors were enthusiastic.

Sale of one of Sidney's pioneer retail businesses was announced this week. Hugh Hollingworth, who has been associated with the operation of Local Meat Market for several years, has acquired the business from A. D. Harvey, son of its founder. The change of management became effective at the first of July.

Mr. Hollingworth, who has long been active in Sidney Volunteer Fire Department and Sidney Kinsmen Club, intends to carry on the business without major changes.

Mr. Harvey, who has been active in the management of Local Meat Market for some 40 years, has no immediate plans for the future. He will continue to reside in Sidney.

Alan Spooner Assumes New Office With Rotary Club

Alan Spooner, manager of the Sidney branch of the Bank of Montreal, was installed as president of the Sidney Rotary Club for the year 1963-64 on Wednesday evening, June 26.

Dr. J. T. Cruise, of Victoria, past governor of Rotary District 502, officiated at the ceremony in the Sidney Hotel. A capacity crowd was in attendance including wives and guests of local Rotarians as well as many visitors from the Victoria, Douglas and Duncan clubs. Special guests of honor were Gerry Flint, president of the Sidney Kinsmen Club and his wife.

A program of enthusiastic community singing was led by Vic Dawson, followed by an hilarious skit on "banking" by the club's charter president, Frank Stenton and program chairman, Harold Dawson. Mrs. F. Derry, president of the Rotary Anna thanked Padre F. C. Vaughan-Birch for his amusing but fervent toast to the ladies. C. D. Frizzell, before turning over his reins of office, briefly reviewed his year as president, reporting on extensive achievements in community and international service. He thanked all the club members for their co-operation.

MAIL DELIVERY IS ADVANCED

Postmaster P. T. Jones has announced that, starting July 4, mail at the south end of Salt Spring Island will be delivered an hour and a half earlier than hitherto.

For instance, mail delivery at 11 a.m. in the past will now be about 9:30 a.m., he explained. All areas are affected.

Outgoing mail will be on the 2:30 p.m. ferry from the post office at Fulford.

TANKER TO PROVIDE FIRE PROTECTION AT PENDER

Fire protection was one of the chief topics for discussion at the quarterly meeting of the Pender Island Chamber of Commerce, held in the Hope Bay Hall last week.

The Chamber's plans to order a 200-gallon tank, for quick transport by pick-up truck, in case of fire, was endorsed by the membership. The president, L. J. Armstrong, said prospects of a truck being donated, were good, and a motor for the pump had already been donated. It was felt such a set-up would prove invaluable in holding a fire until the heavier hose and pump could be set up for use. Louis Odden, local mechanic, will construct the tank.

Dissatisfaction over lack of ferry connection to Ganges was expressed by a number of members. It was felt the Gulf Islands Lady Minto Hospital would be of little use to Pender residents if forced to reach it via Fulford.

NO PILES

Transportation chairman, W. L. Shirley, said he had suggested the driving of two or three piles alongside the docking facilities at Village Bay, so the Pender Queen could berth out of the way while the Queen of the Islands was in the slip, in order to make connections for Ganges, but the Toll Authority could not see its way clear to do this. The matter is being pursued further.

A progress report on the Pender's book indicated proofs would be in hand within a few days, and publication would follow thereafter within a reasonable period. The book will contain general information, historical facts and favorite recipes, and will be distributed for sale locally and elsewhere.

CONGRATULATIONS
Before the impressive installation ceremony, Dr. Cruise congratulated the Sidney Rotary Club members on their continuous record of "Service Above Self".

In addition to Alan Spooner, as president, the following were installed: vice-president, R. Scholefield; secretary, A. Kiffin; treasurer, D. Ruffie; directors, A. Boon, J. Crossley, T. Bradley and P. Clark.

On receipt of the grant and president's pin, Mr. Spooner heralded a new year of Rotary service to the Sidney and Saanich Peninsula area. He extended an invitation to the Duncan Rotary Club to join Sidney Rotarians and ladies on July 8 at Sidney Spit for an evening of fellowship and "crab-bake".

Rowton Lashes At Personnel As Summer School Collapses

—Calls For Changes In Reply To Charges

Not Enough For More Tuition

Of a total registration for summer school in Saanich School District, largest single subjects sought were maths 10 and social studies 10, for which only nine students enrolled.

On Friday evening it was generally agreed by trustees of the district that lack of adequate registration automatically ruled out the possibility of staging the courses.

The previous Monday had seen trustees approve the presentation of a summer school provided that a minimum of 15 students enrolled for each course offered.

Expressing indignation that the summer school had been interpreted as a conditional course for promotion, Capt. J. F. Rowton urged that this year's experience should be the background for offering a similar school next summer, but with a fee within the reach of all families.

High For June

June was a wet month in this area. According to statistics compiled by the meteorological division of the department of transport at Patricia Bay Airport, there were 11 days in the month with measurable rainfall. This is considerably greater than the average, said officials. On seven of these days, 0.4 inches of precipitation or more was recorded. Total precipitation for the month was 1.65 inches.

Temperatures were closer to normal. The mercury hit a high of 82 deg. F. at the airport in June with a low of 42 recorded. Mean temperature was 58.5 degrees.

BURGLARY AT GANGES

R.C.M.P. at Ganges are investigating a burglary at Mount Bros. store on Friday night.

Blood on the window sill indicated that the thief had cut his hand in gaining entrance through a back window.

Boxes in the shoe department were strewn over the floor, but no immediate indication was found of depredation in other directions.

Contracts Awarded For Two Schools In Area This Year

Two new schools will be started in Saanich School District this summer. They are a four-room school at Lochside, near Royal Oak and a three-room unit at Duran Road, between Brentwood Bay and Prospect Lake.

Slegg Brothers Construction Ltd., of Sidney will build the Duran Road school at a cost of $47,500. Lochside school will be erected by Herb Bate Ltd.

On Friday evening a special meeting of Saanich School District opened tenders on the Lochside school. Five companies bid on the project. They were Bate, $51,540; who won the contract; Slegg, $54,300; Whetton, $56,832; D'Arcy, $57,044 and Paine, $58,315.

Trustees were reminded that all tenders included the 11 per cent building tax recently imposed by the Dominion government and that the amount would be refundable in the event of a relief from that tax.

The two new schools follow the plan of Keating school, Keating, which is nearing completion is designed to a standard plan evolved by the department of education largely at the instigation of Saanich.

ALREADY 30 PAID UP

Final Canvass For Water Planned In Dean Park Area

Residents of the Dean Park area will be canvassed during the next several weeks to ascertain the number of property owners who will take water from the proposed distribution system.

On Wednesday evening last week the Dean Park Property Owners' Association called a public meeting to announce the development of plans for a piped water supply and to invite ratepayers to sign up for water.

Some 30 owners signed up on the spot and the association announced that the canvass would be made in order to find the minimum number of 125 customers needed to implement the plan.

Plan calls for the inclusion of the district within the Sidney Waterworks District. Water would be taken from the Elk Lake pipeline and not from the existing Sidney wells.

About 70 persons attended the meeting.

Charges that students were being "blackmailed" into attending summer school courses were levelled at Saanich School District on Friday evening when Trustee J. F. Rowton protested the manner of presentation of the summer classes.

Students had been given instructions that their failure in a subject would prohibit their promotion, he reported unless they attended summer school.

It had not been his intention, when proposing a summer school, that it would be a condition of promotion, asserted Capt. Rowton, or that its operation would prejudice students' promotion in the school district.

He cited the instance of two students within a family who were warned that they must attend summer school in order to pass. The cost to their family would be $80, and was beyond their purses, he told his fellow trustees. There had been a resistance on the part of parents to the $20 fee, observed Trustee R. J. Scholefield. Attendance would have been higher had the fee been $10, he felt.

"It was never our intention to blackmail students into attending," commented Chairman Reginald Sankinson.

Capt. Rowton extended his criticisms to embrace North Saanich secondary school.

"I have questioned the standards at North Saanich secondary school for years," stated Capt. Rowton, "and I have always been assured that everything is fine. I have still maintained that everything is not 'rosy'."

SOPHISTICATED COMEDY AND JAZZ AT GEM

An hilarious yarn about an American millionaire who brings an Italian girlfriend to his luxurious villa only to find that the rendezvous haven has been turned into a hotel by his major domo, is told in "Come September" which will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Gem Theatre in Sidney.

The sophisticated comedy stars Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida, Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin and Walter Slezak. Settings for the story range from the Italian Riviera to Rome and all its colorful outlying regions.

Accent will be on jazz at the Gem on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week with "Paris Blues" coming to the screen. It is the story of two American jazz musicians who travelled to Paris after World War Two. Starring Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward and Sidney Poitier, the film boasts a score by Duke Ellington and the presence of Louis Armstrong. Featured with "Satchmo" is vocalist Diahann Carroll. Paris itself plays an integral part of "Paris Blues". Locations used included the quays of the Seine, the Bois de Boulogne, Notre Dame and the colorful bird market.

Three of France's most talented performers, Serge Reggiani, Barbara Laage and Marie Versini, appear in the film based upon the best-selling novel by Harold Flender.

SUCCESSFUL GARDEN PARTY AT SANSCHA HALL

Anglican parish garden party of Holy Trinity and St. Andrew's churches held recently in Sanscha hall proved to be a great success, with large numbers in attendance throughout the afternoon.

Home cooking, costume jewelry, superfluity and garden stalls were busy and the balloon dart game and bran tub dip for children were also well patronized.

Entertainment was provided by the Legion Kitchenaides.

Display of work by the Saanich Peninsula Art Centre proved to be a great attraction to the guests. Mrs. J. R. Sinclair provided a further interesting note with her portrait sketching in pastel.

AWARDS DAY AT SANBURY SCHOOL COMPLETES YEAR

On Tuesday morning, June 27, the students and teachers of Sansbury elementary school gathered for the annual awards presentations.

D. J. McColl, principal, addressed the group and mentioned how very pleased he was with the excellent co-operation he had received from the teachers, Miss E. Lane, Mrs. M. M. Bradley and Mrs. E. Cruickshank, as well as with the noticeable improvements shown by the pupils in all grades. He had a few special remarks for his grade 7 students, whom he wished well in their future studies. At this point he introduced Mrs. J. W. Bond, president of Sansbury P.T.A., who presented the various awards.

Mrs. Bond said she welcomed the opportunity, as a parent, to sincerely thank both Mr. McColl and the teachers for the fine work they had done with the pupils and, as president of the Parent-Teacher Association, to present the awards on behalf of the association.

Recipients of awards were as follows: P.T.A. academic awards, grade 1, Mary Lyon; grade 2, Ricky Johnson; grade 3, Timothy Lott; grade 4, Betty Jeffrey; grade 5, Anney Robb; grade 6, Donna Bompas; grade 7, Gloria Wisenden and special class, Deborah Jowat.

Sansbury art contest: girls, Donna Bompas; boys, Douglas Bailey. Both received assistance towards their summer studies in the "Painting in the Park" classes. Honorable mention went to Gloria Wisenden, Timothy Lott, Lorraine Benn and John Erickson.

Japanese Sailors Enliven Second Strawberry Festival

—Prize Winners Listed

Despite a cloudy morning, well over 1,000 people turned out for the second annual Strawberry Festival held at Brentwood Bay in June. Fears of a washout cleared with the skies and the afternoon was sunny and warm for the event which was enlivened by folk dancing, fencing and karate displays by sailors off the Japanese sailing ship Kaiwo Maru.

The thin crowd present for the official opening at 1.30 p.m. was entertained by the music of the South Saanich Schools Band under the direction of Roger Montague. The band, composed of students from several local schools, played steadily as visitors made the rounds of the various stalls at the festival.

Stepping off in different and unique style was the Kitchenaires Band under Mrs. Elsie Bullough. The "band" is composed of ladies from the Sidney Legion Auxiliary whose instruments are made up from assorted household implements and gadgets.

Most popular of the stalls was the Little League dunk tank, where visitors could send a team coach or parent of a player splashing into four feet of water. All that was required was an accurate pitch.

Go-Kart demonstration by Karts and riders from Nick's Island View Beach Resort occupied the centre of attention for a portion of the afternoon. The demonstration was given on Wallace Drive which had been closed off between West Saanich and Sluggett Road for the festival.

Announcement of a karate display by the Japanese sailors brought youngsters and their parents thronging around the stage on the grounds of Brentwood elementary school. Some of the children were a little disappointed at first as the sailors, all proudly wearing their black belts, merely displayed the movements of the defensive art.

However, they watched breathlessly and unblinkingly as one of the men shattered eight one-inch tiles with one lightning fist blow. Another sailor then split three cedar boards in a similar manner. The karate display was concluded with defence against a knife-wielding attacker demonstrated.

The sailors later returned to entertain the crowd with fencing and folk dancing displays. They attempted to teach some of the young girls at the festival the rudiments of the folk dances, much to the amusement of the onlookers. The sailors witnessed Canadian square dancing in return.

REAL TREAT

In broken English, the Japanese told their hosts that they liked Victoria very much but found the countryside even nicer. The people here are very friendly, they said. They told festival officials that the strawberries were a real treat for them as only the wealthy can afford them in Japan.

At the end of the day, officials expressed some disappointment at the lack of local response to the festival. It was noted that a large number of the visitors came from Victoria.

The day's festivities concluded with the strawberry dance in the Brentwood Bay Community Hall, attended by over 200 people. Playing for the dance was the five-piece orchestra of Len Acres. Strawberry shortcake and cream was served to the dancers during the evening.

RECORD GRADUATION CLASS HEARS OF NEW INSTITUTE FROM NEW PRINCIPAL

Members of one of the largest graduating classes to be seen in this area received their graduation certificates at Claremont senior secondary school last Wednesday evening. Total of 83 graduates were presented with certificates by F. A. McLellan, district superintendent of schools.

Relatives and friends of the graduates almost filled the gymnasium of the new school for the public ceremony.

Unscheduled highlight of the ritual was the presentation to the school of a plaque with the new emblem for the school. Presentation was made on behalf of the graduates to Principal J. W. Lott by students' council president, Joan Youell. The crest was designed by graduate Don Bleasdale.

Several selections were sung by the Claremont Choir under the direction of D. L. Kyle, ending appropriately with "Graduation Day".

Guest speaker at the graduation ceremonies was E. C. Roper, B.Sc.

M. Dorrin, K. Cunningham, 226, 227, E. A. Chatwell, M. Royston, E. J. Dorrin, W. Grafton, 13, W. Pumphrey, E. Duncan, W. Hemens, O. Rickman, M. McLaughlin, W. Wallace, H. Morrison, 2206, 2218, E. B. Mitchell, Robert Burns, Nancy Tidman, 2242, G. H. Harris, T. McGaughey, 2491, H. M. Woodward, C. F. Batstone, M. Simpson, 2261, 2274 and Ron Drayton.

M.B.A., principal of the B.C. Institute of Technology. In his remarks to the graduates, Mr. Roper told them that although education is the prime requisite in today's world, employers still look for initiative and integrity in their employees. He noted that a grade 12 education is quickly becoming the minimum standard for employment. Mr. Roper also described the institute of technology which will open early next year.

Valedictorian for the 1963 graduating class at Claremont was Miss Cheryl Moyer. Speaking unhesitatingly and without the aid of notes, Miss Moyer said that graduation marked both an end and a beginning. It marks the end of the graduate's basic education and the beginning of life on their own. Many of the graduates have known each other since grade one, said the valedictorian, but now they would go their separate ways.

At the end of the summer, some of this year's graduates will return to Claremont in the grade 13 class. Others will attend university while some will go directly into their chosen field.

Reception in the school library for the graduates, their parents and special guests followed the public ceremony.

Graduates and their parents opened the graduation dance at 10.30 with a grand march. Playing for the dance, which lasted until 1 a.m., were the popular Pharaohs.

WATER

FOR decades there have been far-sighted residents of Saanich Peninsula calling for a piped water system to cover all of the area. In the past the area surrounding the Village of Sidney has been in possession of the distribution system originally established as a commercial undertaking and ultimately purchased by ratepayers. Beyond the boundaries of that water district there was no piped supply.

With the advent of the department of national defence into the district at the outbreak of the Second World War a new system was instituted to serve the airport. Initially it also served those whose normal supplies had been pre-empted also served those whose normal supplies had been pre-

Following the war, the system was offered to any community in the area who would operate it and guarantee a supply to the airport. There was no immediate customer for the system and it was not until the Swartz Bay ferry wharf had been augmented to cater to the new provincial ferries that water service was extended beyond the airport in a northerly direction.

Central Saanich then acquired the system with a view to establishing a water service within the municipality. That system is already in operation and feeding many a thirsty household whose previous supplies had been precarious.

Almost immediately afterwards the Deep Cove-Patricia Bay area developed plans for piped water and gained approval of the construction of a system, drawing supplies from the same source. The area is now an established water district and is investigating the final problems of a supply system.

Last week saw the Dean Park area making its last efforts towards piping water through the area south of Sidney Waterworks District and east of East Saanich Road.

This area has already gained approval of its entry into Sidney Waterworks District and only awaits the arbitrary number of consumers before plans are implemented for the laying of lines.

Today only one area is excluded from the Saanich Peninsula, north of Sidney.

The Curteis Point area is in the throes of investigating a supply in that district north of Sidney and east of the Deep Cove Water District. A second area is without piped water. Ardmore and the north-western section of Mount Newton voted against piped water when it was first proposed.

The dreams of the far-sighted have been long in materializing, but it is strange that without the efforts of Central Saanich to offer water service to its own taxpayers North Saanich might well have been deprived of water for another ten years or more.

Within the next several weeks ratepayers of the Dean Park area will be invited to take water. They will be well-advised to sign up, whether or not they have immediate need of the supply. There is little better insurance than such a system.

FESTIVITIES

JULY 1 carries various connotations beyond the significance anticipated by the sponsors of the Dominion. In Sidney and district it is possible that many children recognize the date by Sidney Day rather than by Dominion Day.

On Saturna Island, it may well be that confederation ranks undisturbed in the back corners of many a juvenile brain more closely concerned with barbecued lamb.

It is certain that youngsters of Galiano Island, so intimately connected with tourists, will come to associate July 4 more directly with a local fiesta than with a neighboring nation's celebration of its birth, although the fiesta does not usually coincide exactly with the American holiday.

While the youth are sorting out local events from national and international considerations, their elders might do well to pause and to consider the festivities which accompany these days.

In Sidney, at Saturna and at Galiano, a comparatively small number of people are accustomed to an annual upheaval to prepare for one day's activities. They rarely come forward to be seen and recognized, but it is largely by their efforts that their home communities are recognized and home residents have the opportunity of meeting in gaiety.

The sponsors and the workers are frequently criticized when an event fails to include a feature we would welcome, but they are rarely commended for their very impressive accomplishments.

POPULATION EXPLOSION?

HAS the population explosion affected the numbers of crows on the Saanich Peninsula? One old-timer told The Review this week that crows are far more numerous this year than ever before in his memory. The marauders are wreaking havoc on fruit trees and creating a serious problem in many areas. The wily birds are hard to shoot and appear to have charmed lives.

One resident has suggested that the provincial government should be urged to place a bounty on crows in an effort to reduce their numbers. Unless something is done the birds will become so numerous as to create a major problem on the Peninsula.

COMMON COMPLAINT

What happened to your art discernment? A headline of this description might bring it to life? "Khrushchev and Richards got together".

It would be quite true. Khrushchev is having trouble with their art devianities.

I got a Panther's Day card which explains a lot to me. "As civilization advances, its language becomes more adequate for the complete expression of complex abstract thought."

Would that apply to our abstract art? Frank Richards says "definitely". He has a point, but we cannot ignore it. We can ask what it contributes to intellectual refinement.

Possibly, one day, one abstractionist will see and portray a great light. In which case we philistines will catch a glimmer. After all, what civilization we have is constituted. Tolerance and humor with a little curiosity will bring us there at last. Meantime we must put up with or dodge abstract art. I prefer to dodge, which in all cases is not wise.

Recently we had a visitor in our home: an artist in his line. My wife and I were variously annoyed and amused at the mannerism displayed. When later we saw and talked to him in what might be

SERVICES ON THURSDAY FOR FRANK REED

Resident of this area since 1937, Frank M. Reed, aged 74 years, passed away at Rest Haven hospital on June 30. His late residence was on White Road at Brentwood Bay. He previously lived at Sidney for a number of years after coming from Vermilion, Alberta.

Mr. Reed had been a patient at the Veterans' and Rest Haven hospitals for several weeks and had returned home but was again taken to Rest Haven a few days later. He suffered a heart attack on Saturday and did not recover.

Mr. Reed is survived by his daughter, Mrs. C. H. (Marie) Waring, of Nanaimo; four sons, Bill, of Metchosin, Fred at Quesnel and Floyd and Lawrence, both of Victoria; also 15 grandchildren, and nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at McCall Bros. Floral Chapel in Victoria on Thursday, July 4 at 3:15 p.m. Padre Douglas Kondell will officiate. Interment in Royal Oak Burial Park will follow the services.

Leave On Charter Trip To Europe

Mrs. Donald McLeod, teacher in the Salt Spring Island school, accompanied by her little daughter, Sandy, left Vancouver July 1, on a chartered teachers' flight to Europe. Five such flights, each carrying 110 passengers, are scheduled during the summer months.

Flying direct to London, the group will then proceed on a tour of the Netherlands and western European countries, travelling as far south as Rome. Sandy will spend a portion of the visit with her father's relatives in Edinburgh. Later she will be joined by her mother, and with relatives they will tour England and Scotland, visit the Isle of Skye and attend the Edinburgh Festival, returning to B.C. on August 27.

"This by the way, mentioned because some of your readers have 'wondered' to me what kind of person might be this abstract artist. Evidently much like the rest of us. So, one supposes abstract art is a cult.

I doubt that culture enters; likely chaos. Once, when I knew nothing of pictorial art—just a little less than I know now—going through the Manchester Art Gallery, Shaw seemed to be speaking to me. Or is it that he speaks to me now? SUPER-MARKET

Something to visit is the first "Super-market" just completed here. There are three floors with escalators, an acreage of display. It was built in a bomb-blasted area in the city centre. An ultra-streamlined joint U.S.A.-Italian conception it is hideous in its stark angles, and in violent contrast with everything near it, but they seem to like it.

I could not find a parking lot as it was built slap on three street frontages.

So my lady, who probably has come by street car, takes her suitcase into the market. This she checks with the attendant at the "ingangen" turnstile and gets in exchange a buggy.

Purchases made and paid for through the battery of cash registers, she reloads her buggy and goes to the attendant, who has the suitcase. He then carefully packs this for her, and she staggers forth.

If Mom had to take "Junior" along, he is not permitted to pass the turnstile. No Sir! He is popped into a sort of corral with a woman attendant and is either stuck in a high chair, buckled down, or placed on a sort of bench and strapped in with a band around his tummy, from which he cannot free himself.

The attendant may offer him a book or toy, but they all seem to sit, immobile as Stony Face Indians, disinterested in the other little hellions around them.

"I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me."—Gal. 2:20.

Can you say that Christ lives in you? These will be just words and mean nothing unless you are a saved person because only those who are saved are indwelt by the Spirit of Christ. (Romans 8:9).

Paul knew the secret of letting the Spirit of Christ have His way in his life. This was to consider his old, natural life as crucified and to live looking unto Him for guidance in life and the power to perform. Even as we are saved by faith we must also live our Christian lives by faith! The realization of the great love of God motivated Paul to such a peak of maturity in his Christian walk that he was able to claim that he did not stand in the way of the operation of the grace of God.

Then to the saved the question really is: "How much of me does Christ indwell—all of my life or only a part?" If He is invited to stand in the hall you will not be happy—but if He has "full run" of the house your life will be full of joy, even under adverse circumstances. May you realize the joy of salvation by surrendering your whole life to our loving Saviour.

NINETEEN STUDENTS TAKE PART IN SALT SPRING SCHOOL GRADUATION CEREMONY

Nineteen students of the Salt Spring Island elementary-secondary school were principals in graduation ceremonies held Wednesday at Ganges. A banquet, attended by 86 persons, including graduates and escorts, parents, teaching staff and special guests was held at Harbour House Hotel.

Grace was said by Joan Stevens and toastmistress was Marjorie Ginn, president of the students' council. Last will and testament was given by Jill Cunliffe, and the class prophesy by Tracy Wilks.

The graduates' gift to the school was a scholarship plaque, on which will be recorded the names of donors and recipients. It was presented by George Quesnel to Mrs. A. J. Hepburn, class teacher.

Mahon Hall was filled with friends and relatives for the ceremony which followed. Lighted tapers, emblematic of the torch of learning, were carried by the graduates as they walked two-by-two the length of the hall to the strains of "Land of Hope and Glory", then presented their candles to grade XI students before taking their places on the platform. The teaching staff, in academic garb, led by J. M. Evans, principal, and P. A. Frattinger, guest speaker, preceded the graduates to the platform.

RULE OF LIFE

Mr. Frattinger, produce manager of B.C. Pulp and Paper Company, in his address, said "Neither the world, nor Canada, nor British Columbia, nor your community owes you a living. MUSICAL BARD AT FESTIVAL

SHAKESPEARE COMES INTO HIS OWN WHEN MERRY WIVES IS ADJUDGED TOP ENTRY

By RALPH KENDALL

The most consistent and evenly balanced, and possibly the most successful of the musical productions offered by the sixth Vancouver festival's management was, I think, the Otto Nicolai opera: "The Merry Wives of Windsor".

Like the Verdi opera it was based on the Shakespeare play and, whilst it has none of the soaring emotional moments of "Macbeth" generally the performances given were of a higher level and the whole production was less ragged than that of the earlier opera. Additionally, it was infinitely more tuneful and polished than "Flora-dora".

Jan Rubes was intensely comic as the portly amorous Falstaff and he used his fine bass voice to good effect. He swaggered, boasted and hissed his way through the whole show and properly personified the adage to "eat, drink and be merry".

Rubes was well supported by Jeanette Scovotti and Cecilia Ward as the mistresses Ford and Page who gulled Sir John as he tried to woo them in tandem, as it were. Successfully they brought about his humiliation, although I think this Falstaff could have risen above any indignity, remaining unashamed to the very end.

EASY CHANGES

John Wilson's setting was sufficiently broad in concept to suggest the location of any of the scenes in rural Elizabethan England. The addition and subtraction of pieces of furniture turned the set into a house, an inn or a ghostly heath. The chorus and ensemble work was good and Susan Mess's costumes set up the piece beautifully. The direction by Herman Geiger-Toril kept the opera flowing and building to the final moments.

Equally good in its own way was Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest". Mike Nichols in his direction brought a freshness to this comedy of manners and the pithy wit of Wilde fairly sparkled. The play was first produced in 1899 but the plot is too trite even to have dated. Its triteness may even be an advantage since it is not unlike those plots in many of today's formula TV comedies, except that it has dear Oscar's clever, epigrammatic writing. Little or none of the humor was lost in this production.

Cathleen Nesbitt, as the formidable Lady Bracknell, was formidable, imposing, elegant and distinctly audible. One could not envision any of the recent scandals in British government taking place if grand dame of the calibre of Nesbitt-Bracknell were still in authority. We can only assume that Wilde must have had a terrible mother-in-law.

COOL CUCUMBER

Moya Fenwick as Gwendolen Fairfax was a determined young lady in a very fragile sort of way, and throughout appeared as cool as the cucumber sandwiches her mother was so fond of.

John Cullum as John Worthing and Christopher Newton as Algernon Moncreiff were worthy foils as they each sought to "outbunbury" the other and prod the play along.

Gerard Parkes was an extremely unctious Rev. Canon Chasuble, but Esme Crampton was not prissy enough, not sufficiently fluttery or scatterbrained in her portrayal of Miss Prism. Kristina Callahan as Cecily suffered from inaudibility and her delivery was unnaturally plummy. She looked as she'd wandered in from Wuthering Heights rather than the result of gracious upbringing in the southern counties.

The outstanding success... in fact the sleeper of this festival... turned out to be "Spring Thaw". It was transferred from the Playhouse to the much larger Queen

Is This The Missing Morning Star?

Racing yacht Morning Star which berthed here last year may be the same craft which was the object of two unsuccessful searches south of Nassau last month. Searches conducted by the United States Coast Guard have now been abandoned. This picture was taken when a yacht called Morning Star tied up at Van Isle Marina for several weeks last year.

Vanished Yacht May Have Called Here

By BILL CHATTERTON

A sleek racing yacht which berthed at Van Isle Marina for several weeks last year may now be lying at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean. Just over one month ago, on June 2, an American yacht identified only as Morning Star sent out a marine radio distress call reporting she was sinking 250 miles south of Nassau. A search launched immediately by the United States Coast Guard proved fruitless.

On June 8, a life preserver with the words Morning Star stencilled on it was found near the position reported in the radio message. A

Elizabeth theatre and played three extra performances to capacity houses. It held together very well on the large stage even though it was designed for the more intimate atmosphere of the smaller theatre.

Miss Lennie Hindmarch, Jimmy Campbell and Gordon Bavis are the name Morning Star.

About 13 months ago a 97-foot yacht, with the same name as the missing boat, tied up at Van Isle Marina for repairs. She had sailed from San Francisco to enter the Swiftsure yachting classic but arrived one day late after running into foul weather on her northward trip. She remained at the Sidney marina for several weeks for minor repairs, re-caulking of her teak decks and some re-painting.

Was it the crew of this same yacht which radioed for help in the Atlantic last month? The United States government and mariners along the east coast are making every effort to answer the question.

New Buildings Changing Face Of Airport

Satisfactory Progress On Terminal And Control Tower

New air terminal and control tower at Patricia Bay Airport are now taking shape with progress described as "satisfactory" by construction officials. Concrete floors at the administration building were poured this week and the asphalt roof will be completed on Monday. Finishing of the masonry walls will also take place early next week. The large new building is being constructed on the south side of the airport near the Navy's VU 33 Squadron base. Tenders for the construction of a road from the terminal to connect with the Patricia Bay Highway will close on July 11.

On the east side of the airfield, between the department of transport hangar and the present T.C.A. terminal, a new control tower is rising to replace the present old structure situated off Mills Cross Road. Complete framework of the tower is scheduled for completion next week and the "cab" will be placed in position at the top soon after.

Construction officials are hoping to see both structures finished and ready for use by October or November.

The Pioneer Girls of Bethel Baptist church marked the end of another successful year with a mother and daughter banquet.

On arrival, the guests were formally welcomed by Pilgrim Lynn Anderson, followed by the singing of the Pioneer theme song to start the proceedings.

Badges, for which the girls had worked diligently throughout the year were presented to Pilgrims Pat Callin, Lynne Glass, Fatsy Brown, Esther Weatherill, Darlene Card and Cathy Ingram. A special service award was given to Linda Bevan. Colonists who received badges were Marion Smith, Joan Hannay and Dinie Groot-veld.

After the presentations, a poem, The traditional candle lighting service, conducted by Pioneer Leader Mrs. H. E. Nunn, closed the festive evening on a more serious note as "The Light of the World", represented by the candles, was passed from each mother to her daughter.
